Negro Boy Enters Store of Mr. Thomas Gaither at Marshall Station Yesterday and Steals Over $10 In Cash.

Yesterday at noon, while Mr. Thomas Gaither, who is L. & N. Agent at Marshall Station and runs a store in the same building, was at dinner, the store was entered and a sum of money over $10 taken from the cash register.

A young negro was seen to climb out of a rear window and headed for Lewisburg on a bicycle, and Mr. Gaither was notified and went to Lewisburg, where he found the boy and grabbed him. He swore he had no money, but Mr. Gaither soon found $10.00 in his pocket, he having laid in a supply of pop, nearbeers and cheese and crackers with the balance.

The negro's hands were tied behind him, he was placed in a buggy and Richard Gaither, son of Mr. Thomas Gaither, brought him to this city and delivered him to Jailer Eltel. The negro said he was 17 years old and allived in Fleming county.

This is the second time this same store has been robbed within a week, and this time it will go pretty hard with the accused.

MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS

A meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of Maysville, National Banking Association, was held at their banking house on July 31st, pursuant to thirty days notice of the proposed business.

Omar Dodson was made Chairman of the meeting and R. K. Hoechlin Secretary.

The entire stock was represented in person, or by proxy, and voted unanimously to transfer the business to the Bank of Maysville, a combined Bank and Trust Company.

ISSUE 22 MARRIAGE LICENSES

During the month of July County Clerk J. J. Owens issued 22 marriage licenses. During the previous month he only issued 18. And they say that June is the month of brides.

HUGHES NOTIFIED

Of Nomination for President by the Republican Party and Makes a Wonderful Speech Assailing Wilson's Policies.

New York, July 31—Charles E. Hughes tonight outlined in his speech of acceptance, the issues upon which he will conduct his campaign for the presidency. Senator Harding, who was chairman of the Republican National Convention, formally notified Mr. Hughes of his nomination.

The large audience which crowded Carnegie Hall to capacity, cheered for several minutes when Mr. Hughes appeared shortly after 8 o'clock. The nominee, recognized Theodore Roosevelt in one of the boxes, waved to him and Colonel Roosevelt clapped his hands in acknowledgment.

General Harding, of Ohio, chairman of the notification committee, was cheered at every reference to the name of the nominee and a Republican victory in November. When he had finished the band played and the crowd arose and cheered again.

Mr. Hughes was frequently interrupted by laughter and applause. After delivering his speech, he was not at a reception to the notification committee and the invited guests to the notification ceremonies.

Mr. Hughes assailed the administration for the course it has pursued with reference to Mexico, maintenance of American rights during the European war, preparedness, and other questions of the day. He declared for a new policy of "firmness and consistency" toward Mexico, for "the unflinching maintenance of American rights on land and sea," and for "adequate national defense; adequate protection on both our western and eastern coasts."

"We denounce all plots and conspiracies in the interest of any foreign nation," Mr. Hughes said. "Utterly intolerable is the use of our soil for alien intrigues. Every American must unreservedly condemn them and support every effort for their suppression."

The nominee assailed the administration for its "direction of diplomatic intercourse," from the beginning declaring that where there should have been conspicuous strength and expertise, there had been weakness and inexperience. He sighted San Domingo as an instance where appointments had gone to "deserving Democrats" and to decisions not to continue Ambassador Herrick at his post in Paris, after the war had started as "a lamentable sacrifice of international repute."

Woman Suffrage Indorsed
"I endorse the declaration in the platform in favor of woman suffrage," Mr. Hughes declared. "Operation may delay, but in my judgment can not defeat this movement. I favor the ballot for women."

One-fourth of the speech was devoted to Mexico. Step after step taken by the administration with reference to Mexico was assailed, from the days of Huerta to the note sent the de facto government by the State Department, June 20, the last part of which was quoted in the speech. The seizure of Vera Cruz, the nominee said, "was war, of course."

"Later we retired from Vera Cruz," he continued, "giving up this noble warfare. Recently the naked truth was admitted by a cabinet officer. We are now informed that we did not go to Vera Cruz to force Huerta to salute the flag. We are told that we went there to show Mexico that we were in earnest in our demand that Huerta must go."

"America," Mr. Hughes continued, "had no policy for any part of her territory, but wished her to have peace, stability and prosperity."

"The conduct of the administration has created difficulties we shall have to surmount," he said. "We demand from Mexico the protection of the lives and properties of our citizens and the security of our border from depredations."

CAMPAIGN OPENING

Charles E. Hughes, Republican nominee for President, will open the Republican campaign in Kentucky at Lexington on the afternoon of September the 5th. This cheering news came from A. T. Hert, National Committeeman from Kentucky and Ludlow F. Petty, Chairman of the Republican State Campaign Committee, who are in New York in conference with National Chairman Wilcox and Mr. Hughes. Ten days ago, Mr. Hert notified Chairman Petty that he had secured the consent of Mr. Hughes to speak in Kentucky on his return from the Western trip, but a definite announcement of the acceptance and the date could not be made until today.

FARMERS' CHAUTAUQUA

Held at the Germantown Fair Grounds Was a Great Success—Over One Thousand Present Sunday.

The Tri-County Farmers' Chautauqua held at the Germantown Fair Grounds Saturday, Sunday and Monday was a great success from every standpoint.

The Sunday program was the leader of the entertainment. It is estimated that from 1000 to 1200 persons were present on the grounds. The crowd was well behaved and nothing happened to mar the occasion during the day.

Judge J. H. Barker of Lexington, Ky., of the State University gave an address during the morning to the farmers. Judge Barker is a man of a rare personality and his address was well received by his hearers. He seems to have a way to "get next to" his hearers. By many it is claimed that he was the best number of the entire chautauqua.

After the morning session a big basket dinner was held on the grounds. All participated in the affair.

In the afternoon Dr. E. B. Barnes of Richmond, Ky., led a union service on the grounds which was very inspiring. Dr. Barnes is a wonderful speaker and greatly impressed those who heard him. He was aided by several of the local preachers in his service. The service reminded one of a campmeeting. Prof. T. J. Currey of Maysville gave a talk to the farmers which was greatly enjoyed.

The Monday's program was the windup of the chautauqua. In the morning a stirring address by Dr. Fred Mutchler on "Co-operation" and another address by Mr. George Roberts on "Cropping Systems" were very instructive and interesting. Mr. Roberts gave the scientific way to raise crops and many farmers will be greatly benefitted by his remarks on the subject.

The afternoon session was opened by a talk by Miss Chinn on Home Conveniences. A great many ladies heard Miss Chinn and profited by her talk. Mr. George Roberts gave another talk on "Soil Fertility" which was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Fred Mutchler closed the chautauqua by his final lecture "Demonstration Work in Kentucky."

The music for the three days of good things was furnished by the Lyceum Concert Co. of Cincinnati, one of the best concert companies in this section of the country. They gave several selections at each session and were very generous with their encores.

The success of the chautauqua was greatly due to the efforts of Banker R. G. Humlong and Dr. Dan H. Lloyd both of Germantown. These men worked a great deal to secure the chautauqua and after securing it made it a success by issuing a folder of the chautauqua and urging the farmers to come to it. Their work was certainly appreciated in helping to make the chautauqua a success.

The Farmers Chautauqua will certainly be an institution in these three counties in the future. The large crowds which attended showed that the farmers were interested in the work and many inquiries were made as to whether another one would be held next year. The talent was furnished by the State of Kentucky and the Federal Government and was entirely free to those attending. By all means a chautauqua next year.

THE ERNEST HOWELL APPOINTMENT

The Owensboro Inquirer, in a carefully written editorial, defends the appointment of Ernest Howell, of Owensboro, as Superintendent of the Kentucky Reform School.

The Inquirer, which is a strong supporter of Governor Stanley, asserts that notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Howell was for some time engaged in business as a saloonkeeper he is a man of high character, thoroughly reliable and trustworthy, and has made an enviable reputation, wherever he is known, because of his upright conduct and industry. He went into the saloon business eleven years ago but sold out in eight months. At present he is a deputy sheriff.

The Leader has never said anything unkind about Mr. Howell. It has conceded from the beginning that his business as a liquor seller did not necessarily make him either an outlaw or a disreputable character. This has little to do with the actual merits of the case.

What The Inquirer failed to mention, in its defense of this appointment is that Mr. Howell, by reason of peculiar training or experience, is equipped for the responsible duties which lie before him.

The boys and girls who are sent to the Reform School are often deficient in many respects—morally, physically, spiritually. Their conversion into good men and women and useful members of society must depend, in a large measure, upon the culture, the tact and skill of the man who directs the institution. He should be a teacher of experience and ability and one who had had large opportunity to study and take part in the development of derelict children. Is Mr. Howell a man of this type? Is he a man of education? Has he ever had experience in the training of wayward boys and girls? Has he ever indeed mingled at all with men and women who have made this their business in life?

These are the standards by which Mr. Howell must be rated if we are to consider his fitness for the position in question. He might have been a saloonkeeper, a dray driver, or occupied any other humble position early in life, and yet have fought his way through schools and colleges until he was capable of becoming a teacher and a moral and spiritual guide, but no claim of this nature is made for him, and The Leader sincerely regrets that such is not the case. It is granted that he is industrious, that he is honest, and that he will approach his duties conscientiously, but will he have a full appreciation of the tremendous responsibilities which rest upon him, and if he is alive to these duties, will he know how to discharge them to the best interest of his unfortunate wards?

The Leader is not disposed to make political capital out of the mistakes of the State Administration. This newspaper is first of all for Kentucky, and it wants to see every State institution well managed and well managed. If Governor Stanley will forget that there is such a place as the United States Senate, and will make appointments of the sort under discussion with an eye single to the peculiar fitness of the applicant for the delicate duties involved, a grateful constituency will take care of his political fortunes in the future.

The very fact that the Governor's friend, the Owensboro Inquirer, is called upon to make a defense of Mr. Howell in the manner in which this defense is framed, is confession of the folly of the appointment which no argument can overthrow.

Better let Mr. Howell continue to discharge the duties of deputy sheriff and pursue his ambitions to become a good business man, and leave the State's corrective institution in the hands of experts who have been trained for the work in hand.—Lexington Leader.

ANOTHER CHANGE OF MIND

One of the first acts of Woodrow Wilson after becoming President was to cause the withdrawal of the United States from the Six Power Group agreement to which we were a party, for extending aid to China. American bankers, desiring to take part in the $125,000,000 loan to China then proposed, approached Mr. Wilson for assurances of such protection from this government as is accorded to the bankers of Britain, France, Germany, Russia and Japan. Mr. Wilson turned them down cold, declaring that he disapproved such a loan because of "the obligations it imposed upon the government."

Today the State Department is trying to obtain for subscription by American bankers a loan of several millions to the Chinese Government, and New York bankers are being importuned to extend to China the very aid Wilson blocked in March 1913. The question now is, Has the Wilson flop taken place too late in the day? The new Russo-Japanese treaty with respect to China would indicate that it has. Premier Okuma of Japan reminds us that we had our chance, and that we refused to avail ourselves of it. Russia and Japan will attend to the needs of China, and in return will receive valuable trade concessions. Japan will maintain the open door policy, with Uncle Sam jammed behind the door. Oh, could we but have a John Hay or an Elihu Root at the head of the Department of state, and a man of some stability, instead of the Wobbly Wilson as our chief magistrate!

The Democrats in "espousing protection" are in the case of the devil being sick who would be monk be, just however, until all trouble blows over. The conversion is only political, not economic, or a permanent change of heart.—Philadelphia Ledger.

After sixteen years of waiting our party entered the White House.—From Mr. Bryan's convention speech.

Add nearly four more years of waiting in the White House—watchful waiting.—N. Y. Sun.

It has fallen to Charles E. Hughes to be the man to make the one-term plank of the Baltimore platform mean something.

The most beautiful thing in life is that which appears most beautiful to us. Your choice.

FIRST CHIEF TO RETIRE FROM POST SO HE CAN RUN FOR PRESIDENT OF MEXICO, IS REPORT.

Laredo, Texas, July 30—Venustiano Carranza is to retire as First Chief of the de facto Government of Mexico at an early date and will be succeeded by General Pablo Gonzales, according to information given out by Mexican administrative circles in Nuevo Laredo tonight.

General Carranza will enter the field as presidential candidate at the forthcoming general elections, it is said today, apparently confirming recent unofficial advices from Mexico City, which intimated that the First Chief would seek elevation to the Presidency at the hands of the voters.

The conference of Mexican Generals with Carranza soon to be held in Mexico City, according to these advices, will arrange for the call for general elections and for the retirement of the First Chief.

This conference was said to have been summoned to prevent possible friction in military circles over the proposed transfer of power.

While no date has been set for the conference, several high officers of the de facto government military forces have left the border within the last few days with the announced intention of proceeding to Mexico City to confer with General Carranza, and it is believed in Nuevo Laredo that the accession of Gonzales to the administrative power will not be delayed long.

COMMERCIAL VALUE OF POPCORN INCREASING

"The invention of mechanical corn-popping aids which make the process almost automatic has stimulated the demand for pop corn," says Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published in Springfield, Ohio. "These mechanical poppers prevent losses from scorching the corn, and insure a popped product that need not be touched by the hand until it is in the possession of the consumer. There is also a growing commercial use of pop corn in confectionery. It is quite possible that pop corn in some form may yet become a satisfactory substitute for some of the commercial breakfast foods."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

YES, MISS WHOSIT, MY MARRIED LIFE WAS A HAPPY ONE FOR YEARS.—IN FACT, MY WIFE AND I DIDN'T START TO BATTLE UNTIL RECENTLY, WHEN I SUDDENLY FOUND SHE WAS BECOMING LIGHT-HEADED!

BUT THIS IS HOW HE DID IT

NEW PLANS

For Fiscal Court Discussed by County Attorney Rees.

A question that is occupying the attention of the voters and taxpayers of Mason county at the present time and causing them more or less concern is the manner of the administration of the Fiscal affairs of the county. No doubt the greatest contributing cause to the dissatisfaction that exists is the condition of our turnpike roads. No one denies the very evident fact that the roads of the county are not in as good a state of repair as they were five or ten years ago. I presume that every one realizes that a portion at least of their deterioration is due to the increased amount of traffic during that period, and especially the greatly increased traffic during the tobacco season each winter, at a time when the roads are most easily damaged. Notwithstanding this, there is a feeling that the public funds are not expended as efficiently as they might be. I have never heard any one accuse any member of the present Fiscal Court of dishonesty, and from my personal acquaintances with them I know that all of them are men of integrity. However, it is not my purpose in this article to defend or criticize the conduct of any individual or set of individuals, but to criticize a system that is cumbersome and antiquated, and to suggest the adoption of a system that I believe will prove an improvement over the present one. The trouble is not with the personnel of the court, but with the system itself. At present the Fiscal Court is composed of the various magistrates, or Justices of the Peace of the County, and the County Judge. There are eight Magisterial districts in Mason County, and, as each magistrate is only voted for in his own district, consequently each voter has a voice in the election of only one-eighth of the court. A magistrate instead of being answerable to the voters of the entire county for his acts is answerable only to his own constituents, and the result is an encouragement of log rolling methods in making appropriations of the public funds. It is only natural that a man should endeavor to secure as many benefits as possible for his own district. Another serious defect in the present system is the fact that the members of the Fiscal Court, being also Justices of the Peace, are invested by law with jurisdiction of petty civil and criminal cases. This feature of the office reduces the number of desirable men that might otherwise offer their services in the management of the fiscal affairs of the county. The duties incident to the office of a Justice of the Peace are irksome and annoying to many business men and, in fact, render it impossible for many men to accept the office of Magistrate. At each election it becomes necessary in many districts to cajole and beg representative men to run for the office.

The taxes collected each year in Mason County amount to approximately $85,000.00, including the school tax, and the efficient expenditure of this sum of money requires not only a high degree of business ability on the part of the members of the Fiscal Court but a close personal supervision by them of the affairs of the county. This supervision will never be secured under the present system, and not until a less complicated one is adopted whereby authority is more centralized and responsibility can be fixed.

The Constitution of the State of Kentucky provides that "Counties shall have a Fiscal Court which may consist of the Judge of the County Court and the Justices of the Peace, in which court the Judge of the County Court shall preside, if present; or a County may have three Commissioners to be elected from the County at large, who, together with the Judge of the County Court, shall constitute the Fiscal Court." By an act of the Legislature this latter provision has been made operative, and a means has been provided for electing three Commissioners from the county at large, who, with the County Judge shall compose the Fiscal Court. Section 1847, Kentucky Statutes, as amended, provides that upon application by written petition signed by three hundred and fifty of the legal voters of the County the County Judge shall submit to the qualified voters of the County at the next general election the question, "whether the Fiscal Court of the County shall be composed of three Commissioners, to be elected from the County at large, and the Judge of the County Court." If the majority of the votes are in favor of the proposition, the County is divided into three districts, as nearly equal in population as possible. At the next general election for County officers three Commissioners are elected, one from each district. Thus, each section of the County will be represented and every voter will have a voice in the election of every member of the Court.

I believe that under this plan it will be unnecessary to beg the best men of the County to seek the office, and that the Fiscal affairs of the County can be handled more efficiently and more expeditiously than is possible under the present cumbersome system. I am not one of that class of reformers that believes the millennium will dawn the moment his own particular brand of reform is adopted, but I do believe that the adoption of the Commission plan will be a decided step forward in County government. My only purpose in having this article published is to sound the sentiment of the voters and taxpayers of Mason County, and to secure from as many of them as possible an expression of opinion for or against the proposed change in the method of selecting our Fiscal Courts.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

QUESTION OF BASEBALL'S ORIGIN IS MUCH MOOTED

Whether or not the city of Cooperstown really originated the national game of baseball is at least open to some question, but for certain it was a Cooperstown man who first evolved the idea of placing the players in practically the same positions they occupy today, according to the late A. G. Spalding.

Spalding, who left a rather elaborate account of the origin of the game, credits Abner Doubleday with its evolution, and avers that it was the embodiment of his ideas that led ultimately to the arrangement which we are accustomed to. Simmered down, however, it would seem that it was only a question of arising to the occasion, for two dozen or more boys to join in a game of ball—that is, batting and catching. And, inasmuch as they had to be distributed after some fashion, Doubleday brought forth the practice of putting men on bases, and of putting runners who failed to reach certain bases, out.

The recent celebration in Cooperstown has reopened the controversy and naturally has occasioned the usual amount of adverse criticism. Some students of the early history of the game still express some doubts regarding its origin, in spite of the writings of Spalding and of several other authorities, and openly indicate their skepticism that either nine or eleven players ever took the field first at Cooperstown.

In the days when Abner Doubleday attended school at Cooperstown (1839) Spalding report says, it was a common thing for two dozen or more schoolboys to join in a game of ball. Doubtless, as in my later experiences, collisions between the players in attempting to catch the batted ball were frequent, and injury due to this cause or to the practice of putting out the runner by hitting him with the ball, often occurred.

I can well understand how the orderly mind of the embryo West Pointer would devise a scheme for limiting the contestants on each side and allotting them to amount of territory; also substituting the existing method of putting out the base runner for the old one of plugging him with the ball. True, it appears from the statement that Doubleday provided for eleven men on a side, instead of nine, stationing the two extra men between first and second and third bases, but this is a minor detail; and indeed I have played, and doubtless other old players have, repeatedly with eleven on a side, placed almost identically in the manner indicated by Doubleday's diagram; although it is true that we so played after the number of each side had been fixed at nine, simply to admit to the game an additional number of those who wished to take part in it.

A wire basket on wheels, to be moved about for the collection of rubbish, which can be burned without emptying the basket, is the invention of an Illinoisan.

I believe that under this plan it will be unnecessary to beg the best men of the County to seek the office, and that the Fiscal affairs of the County can be handled more efficiently and more expeditiously than is possible under the present cumbersome system. YOUNG LADIES

Philathaea Class of the First Baptist Church Makes Interesting Report For Past Month

The following is the report of the Philathaea Class of the First Baptist Church of this city for the month of July:

The class has an active membership of 25 young ladies, who are doing a great work in Social Service in our city. Thirty-five personal calls on sick members and strangers have been made during the month. We have enrolled four new members. Flowers have been sent to one of the members who has been very sick at the hospital.

During the regular business meeting the following officers were elected for another year:

President—Miss Lucie Smith. Vice President—Miss Eva Hughes. Secretary—Miss Bess L. Bell. Assistant Secretary—Miss Julia McDaniel.

Treasurer—Miss Elizabeth Chambers.

Assistant Treasurer—Miss Julia Davis.

Organist—Miss Laura Williams.

Reporter—Miss Ada Rubenacker.

Teacher—Mrs. L. H. Veale.

Assistant Teacher—Mrs. C. S. Kirk. The following committees composed of three members each were appointed: members, social and volunteer services.

The business and social meetings are held on the second Tuesday evening of each month. A welcome is extended to all young ladies interested in this splendid work to meet with us, and strangers in our city are especially invited. Remember the time of the regular class session every Sunday morning at 9:30; the place, First Baptist Church on Market street.

NOTES FROM RUGGLES

J. H. R. Writes Interesting Letter of Happening at Picturesque and Famous Old Campgrounds.

Ruggles Campgrounds, July 30—The largest first Sunday crowd for many years was here today. And no doubt the hot, dry weather kept many others away. For she surely has been some hot, today. Just a little too hot for comfort, and we were all glad when night came that we might enjoy the cool refreshing atmosphere of a campmeeting night.

Dr. Franklin has been the preacher of the day. He preached at 10:30 a.m., 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. giving us three great evangelistic sermons. The day sermons were preached more directly to the church people, urging them to a higher and more blessed religious experience. In spite of the heat good congregations heard Dr. Franklin at all services.

Rev. Madison Combs led the early prayer service. Mr. I. M. Lane led the 9 a. m. praise and testimony meeting, and it was a good one, too. This is by many, considered one of the services of the campmeetings. It was indeed good to be there.

Miss Hurd had just about as many children as she could look after on a hot afternoon in a small room. Over one hundred were in attendance. And little ones entered heartily into the service, which was very interesting for all. Miss Hurd is daily demonstrating the fact that she is the very person for such work and the Association gladly commends her to any campmeeting that would like to secure such services.

An announcement of special interest is that Rev. L. L. Pickett, the noted temperance lecturer, preacher, singer, composer of hymns and many great temperance songs, will be with us next Sunday to speak in the afternoon. This will sure be a great treat to the largest crowd of the campmeeting, which always attends the last Sunday. Dr. Franklin in making the announcement refers to Rev. Pickett as "that thunderstorm of eloquence with partee." Let everyone that can get to this place next Sunday be sure to come. Not only will Rev. Pickett be here but Dr. Eason, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, Louisville, will preach two big sermons. Dr. Eason has the reputation of being one of the best preachers in Kentucky.

Miss Gladys Tomlinson has returned to her home on Lindsay street after a short visit with relatives in Huntington, W. Va.

Mrs. C. P. Dieterich and children, who went to Cincinnati to see the Indians play "Hiawatha" at the Zoo have returned home.

Miss Teresa Gantley returned to her home on East Second street yesterday after a short visit with relatives and friends in Cincinnati.

PUBLIC SALE OF MASON COUNTY FARM

As Executor of Phoebe Marshall, deceased, I will, on SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1916, at 2 p. m., on the premises sell at public auction, the farm owned by her on which she resided at her death, containing about 176 acres, lying just north of the town of Washington, and within 200 yards of Maysville and Lexington Turnpike road, which runs through said town, and within half a mile of the new Washington High School building. Said farm is located in the best part of Mason County, and is in a fine state of cultivation. It is well watered, has on it a one and one-half story brick dwelling house, containing six rooms and kitchen, one tenant house, stable, carriage house, silo, and two large tobacco barns, one of which is also a stock barn. It adjoins lands of George Longnecker, Larkin Brothers, A. L. Glascock, Clarence Tucker, Mrs. Mattie McCann and Mrs. Pearl Marshall. Full possession of the farm will be given to the purchaser on March 1, 1917, but possession of the dwelling house, with privilege of residing during the coming fall, will be given at once on completion of the sale.

The farm will be sold on a credit of six and twelve months, the purchaser to execute notes with good personal security, bearing six per cent. interest from the day of sale, for one-half the purchase money, with privilege, however, of paying the whole purchase price in cash at any time before same falls due, with interest up to the date of payment.

This sale is made pursuant to the directions contained in the will of Phoebe Marshall, deceased.

E. L. WORTHINGTON, Executor of Phoebe Marshall, Deceased.
